

the Defender™

CHILDREN'S HEALTH DEFENSE NEWS & VIEWS

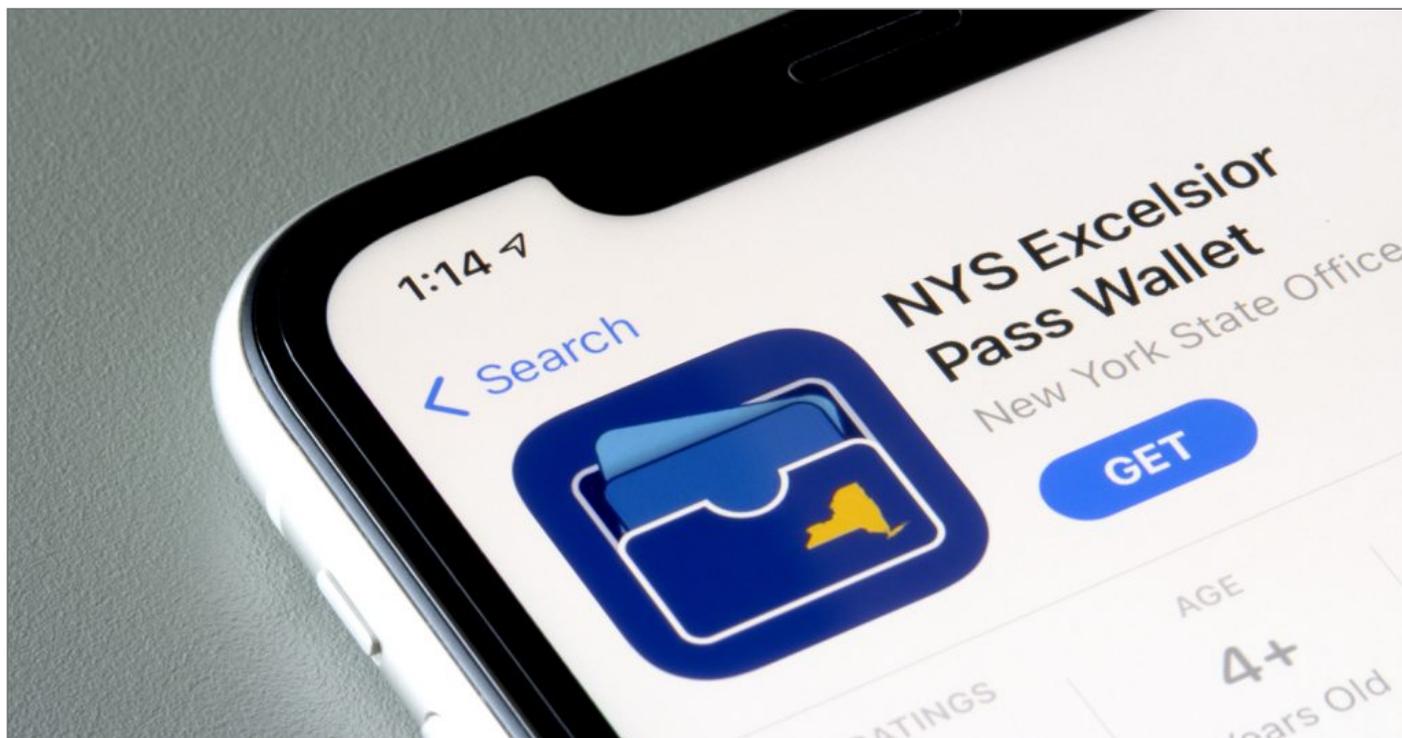

CHD Calls on FDA to Take COVID Vaccines Off the Market - Submit a Comment

05/13/21 BIG PHARMA

Vaccine Passports Have Arrived in New York. Here's How to Fight Back.

New York partnered with IBM to launch Excelsior Pass. The digital pass is portrayed as part of the state's "safe reopening" plan, but is it really just a plan by Big Tech, Big Pharma and the government to commercialize personal health data?

By Aimee Vilella McBride

The Defender is experiencing censorship on many social channels. Be sure to stay in touch with the news that matters by subscribing to our top news of the day. It's free.

On March 26, New York Gov. Andrew Cuomo announced the state had partnered with IBM to launch Excelsior Pass, a digital health pass billed by state officials as part of New York's "safe reopening" plan.

The pass is designed to provide a "free, fast and secure" way for New Yorkers to show proof of COVID-19 vaccination in order to gain entry to major sporting events, theatre and arts performances, concert halls and wedding venues.

How does Excelsior Pass work?

Excelsior Pass is a free app that can be downloaded on phones. It allows users to display a QR code verifying either proof of COVID vaccination or proof of a negative COVID test result.

Venues use a companion app to scan the user's QR code which then generates either a green checkmark or a red X, depending on vaccination status or COVID test result. Users have to show a photo ID with their name and birth date to verify the pass belongs to them.

New Yorkers have the option to show alternate proof of vaccination or test results, for example, a different mobile application or paper form, to gain entrance to the business or venue. Upon entrance, users are still required to maintain social distancing, abide by mask guidelines and use proper hand hygiene.

Initially designed to allow entry to major venues such as Madison Square Garden in New York City, Times Union Center in Albany and other large venues for weddings, concerts and special events, the pass was later expanded for use at smaller arts, entertainment and event venues throughout the state.

IBM has history of collecting personal data

This isn't the first time IBM's technology has played a key role in identifying and segregating people based on their health information.

The New York Times best-selling book by Edwin Black, "IBM and the Holocaust," details the chilling role IBM's past president, Thomas J. Watson, played while serving the Third Reich for 12 years.

According to Black, IBM was intimately involved in providing the punch cards and tabulating machines that helped Adolf Hitler carry out his ultimate plan. While this is not a well-known aspect of IBM's history, the company has never denied any of the facts outlined in Black's book. The book details evidence based on more than 20,000 documents from seven countries, including internal IBM correspondence, memos from the U.S. Department of State and the U.S. Department of Justice, and from concentration camps.

Black's book chronicles how IBM played a pivotal role in the Holocaust, in not only the identification and tabulation of Jews, but also their expulsion from society, including the confiscation of their property, ghettoization, deportation and ultimately their extermination.

How will IBM's role differ this time?

IBM used its Digital Health Pass technology, which is part of the tech company's Watson Works, to develop the Excelsior Pass. The pass is built on IBM's own blockchain technology, allowing organizations and businesses to verify health credentials of individuals, employees, customers and other end users based on predetermined criteria specified by an organization, state or business.

IBM claims privacy is central and the data is secured and verifiable. The company also says the encrypted information is protected on the user's digital wallet, and the user has "complete control" over how and with whom they share the information.

But how is sharing personal health data with Big Tech considered private? If someone is refused entrance to the workplace, a business or venue based on the Excelsior Pass, the person's status would become known to colleagues at work, or strangers nearby at a social venue.

And what will IBM do with this data? How do we know IBM won't turn over the data to government officials or sell it to other entities?

Data security concerns, human rights infringement

Requiring proof of a vaccine or a negative test result is a violation of fundamental human rights and promotes segregation based on unproven and experimental medical interventions. Let's evaluate a few key factors:

- The COVID vaccine is an experimental treatment that at this time has only Emergency Use Authorization. COVID vaccines have yet to obtain-licensing and approval from the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA). It is illegal for any government to mandate or coerce the public to take an experimental medical intervention that is liability-free and lacks long-term safety studies. This form of coercion to gain entrance to a business or venue violates the tenants of informed consent.
- The COVID vaccine has yet to prove in any clinical trials that it can stop person-to-person transmission. Using the Excelsior Pass to show proof of having the vaccine to enter a public venue, business or workspace is not proof of lower risk of transmission to others.
- PCR tests have been proven to have high rates of false positives. A study conducted in April 2020, showed when PCR tests have a cycle threshold around 33 they lead to false positives 80% of the time. PCR tests cycled above 34 can reach 100% false positives. Yet the FDA was recommending PCR tests cycled around 40 times. Excelsior Pass will grant access to businesses and venues based on proof of negative test results, however the methodology is inaccurate and based upon a faulty and broken system of testing.
- While Cuomo touts the Excelsior Pass as a way to return to normal, the pass comes with the same restrictions that have been in place this entire time. Per the NYS guidelines, Excelsior pass holders are still required to wear facial coverings and social distance.

Slippery slope

Once Excelsior Pass rolls out, it will likely expand to include more businesses throughout New York and could expand to more states. Will New Yorkers be forced to show their Excelsior Pass to shop at their local groceries stores? Will New York follow in the footsteps of Los Angeles by mandating the COVID vaccine and use of a tracking app to attend school?

This appears to be a quid pro quo among Big Tech, Big Pharma and government that likely will lead to the commercialization of personal health data — and it could easily expand to other vaccine requirements in the future.

Many people are not aware of the Healthy People 2030 agenda, which ultimately will include an aggressive adult vaccine catch-up schedule. It's easy to see how state government officials and businesses could easily add other vaccines to the Excelsior Pass for children and adults as necessary criteria for entry. This could lead to a systematic threat to our right to travel freely and could interfere with the ability to earn a living and conduct commerce.

Inching closer to a surveillance state

Yesterday in New York, bill S75, sponsored by Sen. Brad Hoylman, passed in the Senate Health Committee. Hoylman is also the author of the bill that repealed religious exemptions in 2019, and he has proposed legislation to mandate the HPV vaccine and annual flu vaccines for school children.

His most recent bill would require college students to get the COVID-19 vaccine.

S75 requires medical professionals who administer vaccines to patients 19 and older to enter their vaccine records in state-operated immunization registries which then provide the data to the New York State Department of Health or the New York City Department of Health (for providers treating patients in New York City).

Previously, the sharing of personal health information for adult vaccine status with the state was optional. By making it mandatory, the bill violates New Yorkers' right to keep health information private.

Hoylman said during the Senate Health Committee hearing " ... this is important data that our health departments need as we battle COVID. This is really a matter of life or death, if we don't get this information into public officials' hands. This is not about consent or personal freedoms, this is about making certain that everyone is protected from this ravaging pandemic."

The bill passed straight down party lines. Nine of the ten Democrats on the committee voted yes (with one Democratic member not present) and all five Republicans on the committee voted no.

The bill will now move forward to a full floor vote in the Senate, and the Assembly Health Committee will also vote on the companion bill. No dates have been scheduled yet but both votes are imminent.

This bill removes the right to privacy for vaccine status for adults in New York and confiscates personal health data in the name of "public health." Any database collecting this information could be commoditized for broader use and will lead to targeting certain populations who aren't receiving vaccines with efforts to coerce compliance and increase uptake rates.

A look at how health information has been commoditized in other countries and tabulated as a "social credit score" provides a glimpse into a dystopian future, where a person's ability to participate in society is dependent on pharmaceutical consumption and participation in programs that track and trace every move and commoditize personal data for the benefit of corporations.

What can we do about it?

Together, we have the power to make a difference with our actions. Here are four actions we can take:

1. Boycott businesses requiring the Excelsior Pass. Refuse to shop, eat, or participate in any events from business that require the use of the Excelsior Pass. If it hurts a company's bottom line, the company will take notice. Send letters addressed to the heads of corporations and businesses you frequent in New York to put them on notice that should they require the Excelsior Pass in the future, you will boycott their business. Find our template letter here to send to companies or businesses requiring mandatory COVID-19 vaccine or COVID-19 tests.
2. Sign this petition. Sign this petition stating you refuse to take part in using New York's Excelsior Pass. Let Gov. Andrew Cuomo know this passport violates your rights. Even out-of-staters can sign — New York depends upon tourism.
3. Sound off to your reps. While the Excelsior Pass wasn't based on state legislation, it's still important for New York residents to share feedback with their state representatives. Cuomo, who has been accused of overreach and abuse of emergency powers during the pandemic, pushed out the digital health pass without any legislative process, public hearings or feedback. You can call, email and, if possible, visit the office of your state legislators. If you aren't sure who your reps are, please look up your state senator here and your assemblyperson here.

Ask your state lawmakers to oppose bills to mandate the COVID vaccine for New Yorkers. A bill was written to mandate the vaccine for virtually all New York citizens — adults and children — in the 2019-2020 legislative session, but has not yet been re-introduced for the 2020-2021 session. Hoylman recently introduced a new bill this legislative session that would make COVID-19 vaccines mandatory for post-secondary education. Let your state representatives know how these bills would affect your family (e.g. force you to move out of state, lose your job, lose the rights for your children to attend school, etc.).

Find out if your state representatives will support freedom of choice when it comes to your personal health decisions. Ask them to support the counterbill, which prohibits mandatory vaccines and provides a vaccine bill of rights to respect constitutional rights of New York citizens, recently introduced by Assm. David DiPietro (R).

- 4. Get loud on social media. Let Cuomo, your state representatives and participating businesses know you refuse to use the Excelsior Pass. Share how this vaccine passport is an infringement of your privacy, violation of informed consent and your fundamental human rights. Let businesses know you will boycott them, as the Excelsior Pass is discriminatory, unethical and unconstitutional.

As President Biden and our federal government contemplate a vaccine passport on the national level, it's imperative to take action now. There are a number of states protecting civil liberties and maintaining choice. As of now, the governors of Florida, Texas, Utah, Idaho, Montana and Arizona have all passed legislation or issued executive orders prohibiting vaccine passports. The governors of Tennessee, Iowa and Georgia have stated their opposition.

Now is the time to keep the pressure on all states to preserve our fundamental liberties. In a very short period, we could see our country change into a surveillance state that revokes the very liberties and freedoms that our country was founded upon.

We face a critical time, where taking a stand and taking action is of utmost importance. Take the actions above and ask others to do the same.

Subscribe to The Defender – It's Free!

SIGN UP

SUGGEST A CORRECTION

Aimee Vilella McBride

Aimee Villella McBride is Advocacy Liaison for Children's Health Defense and a certified holistic health coach, marketing & sales professional.

Sign up for free news and updates from Robert F. Kennedy, Jr. and the Children's Health Defense. CHD is implementing many strategies, including legal, in an effort to defend the health of our children and obtain justice for those already injured. Your support is essential to CHD's successful mission.

Children's Health Defense Comment Policy

We welcome relevant and respectful comments. Off-topic comments may be removed. Please read our Comment Policy before commenting.

76 Comments

Children's Health Defense

Disqus' Privacy Policy

Login

Recommend 2

Tweet

Share

Sort by Best

Join the discussion...

LOG IN WITH

OR SIGN UP WITH DISQUS ?

Name

DB • 17 days ago

So...you not only have to show the vaccine passport, but also a photo ID to prove its your passport. But these states are refusing to ask for a photo ID to vote. REALLY!!!

18 ^ | v • Reply • Share ›

DC • 17 days ago

I am sure Jay Inslee in my state is watching this closely. Thank God I live on the Idaho border where Brad Little signed a law banning this. I guess my summer will be spent in Idaho, Montana and Wyoming again. Crazy to think how crazy these people are and illegal all this is. As a nurse I won't give or get this experiment.

17 ^ | v • Reply • Share ›

DC → DC • 16 days ago

<https://www.king5.com/artic...>

Hot off the press get out your vaccine documentation to be mask-less in WA State I guess Idaho here I come! This is illegal and unconstitutional but nobody seems to care. Where are the lawyers fighting this!

5 ^ | v • Reply • Share ›

Chelsea Yorkshire → DC • 4 days ago

Inslee, and the bought-off governor of Oregon (actually, JUST Portland) will try this. It's no use trying to save Portlanders. The same kind of illiterate sheep live in Washington State where we live.

Inslee tries that, and we'll either move out of the state, or simply refuse to shop. at all. Food delivery services will be fine.

^ | v • Reply • Share ›

Dani • 17 days ago

Just signed. Chicago is getting ready to implement a similar system. We can't let this happen anywhere.

15 ^ | v • Reply • Share ›

Michael Duberson → Dani • 17 days ago

It looks like nothing will stop them but full revolt.

7 ^ | v • Reply • Share ›

Kevin F → Michael Duberson • 16 days ago

Our founding fathers reached a similar conclusion in 1775.

1 ^ | v • Reply • Share ›

Leslie • 17 days ago

Just leave your tracking, and tracing cell phone device at home, off, and buried deep in some drawer where it can't hear you!

12 ^ | v • Reply • Share ›

Chelsea Yorkshire → Leslie • 4 days ago

We have cellulars, but rarely use them. A wise move on our part.

1 ^ | v • Reply • Share ›

Hoosier Daddy → Leslie • 14 days ago

Wrap it in aluminum foil- it works!

Just make a pouch out of the stuff you have in the kitchen.

1 ^ | v • Reply • Share ›

Leslie → Hoosier Daddy • 13 days ago

I don't know if it works for sure? I never tried that before, I just don't trust anything about them, same with the newer vehicles, wayyyyy to many sensors for tracking, and cameras for me, I drove old style!

I heard about the tinfoil, but I personally don't know? what all tinfoil would stop your cell phone from be able to do? Like, could you still receive a phone call? or a text, if so? I would then think that it's not working? If not, 🖱 I guess a person could also test it, by getting a friend to try and GPS you, while your out and about with tinfoil on? I would certainly want to make sure, it works, I don't assume anything these days! 😊 Hoosier Daddy, If you test it, please let me know how it goes, or, if you already did test it! Thanks for this one, interesting!

^ | v • Reply • Share ›

Hoosier Daddy → Leslie • 12 days ago

Wrap your phone in an aluminum foil pouch and have a friend try and call you. It works!

^ | v • Reply • Share ›

Leslie → Hoosier Daddy • 12 days ago

Oooops I forget the tinfoil cell phone video!

wrapping a cell phone in aluminum foil without, and with holes a science with bobert video short

https://duckduckgo.com/?

q=wrap+your+cell+phone+in+tinfoil+video&iax=videos&iai=https%3A%2F%2F

^ | v • Reply • Share ›

Leslie → Hoosier Daddy • 12 days ago

I don't have a cell phone anymore, so I can't try for myself, but what I did do is search a bit, to see what I could find, and I found this video that kinda proves it doesn't work? Maybe? your cell phone isn't an Iphone and it depends on the phone? Some people said it works for EMF protection, others said it makes it pink harder and will kill the battery, but I can't verify that your not being tracked still, while using tinfoil on your cell phone! Thanks for bringing this one up!

^ | v • Reply • Share ›

Sabrina Balsky • 17 days ago

What i can't seem to find an answer on is if a private company or university etc. mandates a vaccine and someone gets seriously injured or worse dies, aren't they liable legally? Does anyone know this answer? They are not indemnified like the vaccine manufacturers?

8 ^ | v • Reply • Share ›

Tim → Sabrina Balsky • 16 days ago

They are 100% liable if they mandate this as part of someone's employment. I am sure lawyers have already drawn up the paperwork to begin filing class action lawsuits. Any business that has a lawyer that oked this idiocy should go after them for malpractice.

7 ^ | v • Reply • Share ›

Sabrina Balsky → Tim • 16 days ago

thank you

2 ^ | v • Reply • Share ›

nowa paz → Sabrina Balsky • 16 days ago

OSHA just released new guidelines that specifically state that employers who mandate this poison can be held responsible for any adverse side effects. So, that's some good news. I hope it scares some of them away.

4 ^ | v • Reply • Share ›

Cat Young → Sabrina Balsky • 16 days ago

This article should provide some insight: <https://christiansfortruth...>

2 ^ | v • Reply • Share ›

Hoosier Daddy → Cat Young • 14 days ago

Good news, I think!

^ | v • Reply • Share ›

Chelsea Yorkshire → Sabrina Balsky • 4 days ago

Can't vouch for "private companies" but what's happened to US universities is the following:

they have ALL been Financialized. Big $$$ figured out there's a lot of $$$$ to be had in universities. It's one of the principal reasons WHY tuition charges have increased exponentially over a few short years.

As a result. it's guaranteed most of these universities, with their legion of attorneys will stop and/all "liabilities" slapped against any university. Just like Big Pharma: NO liability for citizens harmed/died from vaccines.

^ | v • Reply • Share ›

127001 → Sabrina Balsky • 13 days ago

They would be liable because no law protects them the same way the law protects vaccine manufacturers. But there are two things corporations can do:

- 1) put the injections as a condition of employment for NEW hires. That way they will not be liable, it is just a pre-requisite that comes before an employment application can be submitted
- 2) Fight in court through corrupt judges to make it appear as if there is no correlation between the injection and the injury. This is probably easy to do given what we see right now, and given how difficult it's always been to make the system recognize vaccine injuries.

^ | v • Reply • Share ›

Leslie → Sabrina Balsky • 15 days ago

This is one of the giant reasons why, they are funded to lie, and only teach what their funders allow them too! All rules, and laws for anything to do with covid, and vaccines, are null and void, unless they only apply to the HERD! They can do that in a plandemic! There are many secret laws credited in such times, that we don't even know exist! Universities are simply a money collecting tool for instilling more of the official govt version that isn't so! People pay big money, and many years to learn these lies, and embrace them!

"The Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation, the world's largest foundation, has disbursed over $6bn in funding to 392 universities in 51 countries and higher education institutions over the past 5 years"

FUNDING TO UNIVERSITIES BY THE BILL & MELINDA GATES FOUNDATION

<https://www.universityphila...>

^ | v • Reply • Share ›

Gerard_Kane • 17 days ago

I was the 25,275th person to sign the petition. Which seems like a lot to me because everything I write both locally and statewide is censored (that is I don't get past the screeners) which makes me feel like I'm not only alone but nuts. I notice that one trick screeners use to halt all vaccine criticism is to publish anti comments that seem flimsy, irrational, or overly conspiratorial, and to quash all others.

It's so interesting to see that this has become a Dem vs Repub issue (in NYS too) because 80% of big pharma candidate donations go to Republicans--the other 20% to key Dems in certain states. So, a bit confusing when it comes to big pharma vaccines.

8 ^ | v • Reply • Share ›

kris → Gerard_Kane • 17 days ago wow so the democrats drank the koolaid! how sad :0(i do know i was sad when i learned rfk jr almost was appointed by trump to tackle this vaccine problem.. but trump then met with big pharma and decided to take a large donation from them instead! and then didnt trump also buy into moderna? i dont like trump but.. none of it makes sense.

3 ^ | v • Reply • Share ›

Leslie → kris • 16 days ago

The democrats are part of the "koolaid" ingredients, they all are, both sides, and the middle too! Look at it kinda like fake WWF Wrestling, it's all theatrics, that's why they refer to war, as being in theater of war, to them, it's only Drama class! They are there to distract us, with those theatrics, from what they are actually up to!

^ | v • Reply • Share ›

kris → Leslie • 16 days ago • edited

i just mean.. if republicans are receiving way more political contributions from big pharma.. yet democrats are really refusing to rein in big pharma right now... then they must believe the propaganda! at least the people taking the bribes know some of what is going on. although why they would agree to throw everyone under the bus including themselves is beyond me. but we see that with the environment too.

1 ^ | v • Reply • Share ›

sfrobink → kris • 15 days ago

Dem reps are also taking contributions, unfortunately. And some of them believe in this crap believe in this crap

1 ^ | v • Reply • Share ›

QuentonQuale → sfrobink • 15 days ago

I honestly believe the Democrats are worse. The nanny state is strong with them and their need to control all that you do for your own good, of course.

^ | v • Reply • Share ›

Leslie → kris • 15 days ago

Yes I understand, but it's because govt are PRE elected (not by the people) to do what they are told to do, or they will be removed, or simply killed off, like Kennedy and many others to deep to list, they are hired some by blood lines, by the elite puppeteers that are pulling their strings! Big bribing pay days for the corrupted ones who sell their souls, to misinform us, DISTRACT US!

The elections that are not really election, like the "covid vaccine" isn't a really a vaccine", have been planned eons ago, even the Simpsons show, in 2002, said TRUMP was elected, 2002! The Simpsons showed that? how would they even know? to even think that, TRUMP a shady business man, who wasn't even a politician, would be president? same way, the rest of them didn't get "elected" by us! 25 other Simpsons shows also predicted the future and right where we are today, crazy as that sounds, it's true! Preemptive, like movies are! I include the link, just in case! Thanks for your comments, they are always appreciated!

25 TIMES The Simpsons PREDICTED THE FUTURE

see more

^ | v • Reply • Share ›

kris → Leslie • 15 days ago ok i will watch this.. but the show is about political and social satire.. and if u mock america for 30 years some of it is going to look like premonition lol

1 ^ | v • Reply • Share ›

John Stone Mod → Leslie • 15 days ago

It was always quite easy to predict a totalitarian, technocratic future but of course now it is really closing in.

1 ^ | v • Reply • Share ›

Leslie → John Stone • 15 days ago

What's crazy, is that most people, at least around me, (not online,) can sort of sense the covid/ govt red flags they've been tripping over, but, they refuse to embrace the truth, even when that evidence is highly stacked in front of them, instead they still, embrace their beloved oppressors, who got us here in the first place, a history ago!

1 ^ | v • Reply • Share ›

Gabby Pants → Gerard_Kane • 16 days ago

You're in NY too? Check out New York State Senate Bill S75 at nysenate dot gov. It's re. establishing a vaccine database run by the dept. of health.

2 ^ | v • Reply • Share ›

Barbara Jules → Gabby Pants • 16 days ago

I sent an email to all the Senate Health Committee Senators and I believe others did the same but it passed. Now is going to the Senate for full approval and you bet that those Dem are voting. What's wrong with Sen. Hoylman? He's already trying to pass mandatory vaccination when Covid 19 vaccine will be fully approved. We need to vote this guy out is bad news.

2 ^ | v • Reply • Share ›

QuentonQuale → Barbara Jules • 15 days ago

These idiots think they are "protecting" us and unfortunately, many of the public praise them for this complete invasion of personal freedom as if makes them feel safe. I heard an NPR program yesterday where parents were worried that by allowing vaccinated to no longer be masked that their children would be in danger. Unbelievable. The old, "think of the children" line probably invoked by power hungry senators like this Hoylman.

2 ^ | v • Reply • Share ›

Chelsea Yorkshire → Barbara Jules • 4 days ago

Senator Holyman, like MOST Western politicians are ALL BOUGHT off by The Elite, especially in America. There are very few Republicans who are NOT bought off, too.

^ | v • Reply • Share ›

DC • 16 days ago

I am heading out in WA today without a mask without my passport will see if I am carded by anyone! Wish me luck

7 ^ | v • Reply • Share ›

Chelsea Yorkshire → DC • 4 days ago

We live in WA too. We're starting to see people in corporate stores not wearing their masks. No one asks them for their "passports" either.

In stores, as we go down the isles, we pull down our masks. No one bothers us. It's become a hoo-hum sort of routine.

^ | v • Reply • Share ›

North Born • 16 days ago

The complete focus on individual "vaccination" status just doesn't pass the smell test for me.

There is data showing a strong signal that naturally acquired immunity might actually confer the most protection. Complete blackout on this most basic principle of biology. I feel like we are caught in the crossfire between rival mafia gangs fighting over territory. Never in my 52 year s have I witnessed regulatory capture at such scale. I know many good people at the CDC and FDA. But good people are not in charge.

7 ^ | v • Reply • Share ›

sfrobink → North Born • 15 days ago

Me too - I find it ASTONISHING that we are not allowed to discuss the basics of protecting the immune system naturally. I was told for example by the neighborhood chatsite NextDoor that I would be banned if I discussed natural protection. So I asked people to message me privately if they were interested and a couple did.

I have protected with up to 10 gms of Vit C/day, up to 5000 IU Vit D, turmeric (anti-viral) and a mushroom product with 17 dried mushrooms in a capsule - mushrooms are anti-viral. I didn't even get my usual flus this year, that's how good my upped immune system protection has been. This should be common knowledge.

2 ^ | v • Reply • Share ›

Chelsea Yorkshire → sfrobink • 4 days ago

"Next Door" was started by 3-4 Silicon Valley folks. To garner great riches, super wealthy folks have invested multi-millions into Next Door. The last think these corporate-types want is "Free Speech" at Next Door. We started posted messages about how corrupt our town's politicians were. Within two weeks we were dropped.

Any time you have a web site that depends on such investors, much of the time, "Free Speech" becomes a TABOO.

^ | v • Reply • Share ›

Chuck C • 17 days ago

Show photo ID in NY to attend a wedding but no ID to vote. Got it.

7 ^ | v • Reply • Share ›

Dave → Chuck C • 16 days ago

F--- Cuomo!

3 ^ | v • Reply • Share ›

William Huston • 17 days ago

Thanks CHD!

Anyone in Broome County who wants to organize locally to fight back, please reach out to me: WilliamAHuston@gmail.com Thanks!

7 ^ | v • Reply • Share ›

Gabby Pants → William Huston • 16 days ago

Fellow NYer - please check out New York State Senate Bill S75 re the establishment of a

PLEASE CHECK OUT NEW YORK STATE SENATE BILL 5751E: THE ESTABLISHMENT OF A state vaccine database overseen by the State Dept. of Health. You can find it at nysenate dot gov.

2 ^ | v • Reply • Share ›

draeger • 17 days ago • edited

So today the CDC says vaccinated people can relax mask wearing with certain stipulations...which of course will be ignored and the yahoo quotient of the populace will take over like it's spring break.

No need to worry about the fact that vxd people can still get infected & transmit, that some people will "breakthrough" i.e. be unvxd & unaware that they are again at risk, the jab wears off in ~6 months which is speculative, not known or tested but people will be lining up for booster jabs that chase prior strains as new virulent ones spread, mutant strains are developing in poorer countries, due to lack of adequate prevention and treatment, which might be vxn evasive because that's what viruses do: mutate/adapt to obstacles to continue replicating, so all these people thinking they're now free to walk around without masks, fully "protected" are sitting ducks for a completely new strain, and even N95 masks might not be enough protection.

The religion of science is a profiteering scam, until the powers that be come clean with what this thing is and how it came about we will never be told the truth. All of this is basically an attempt by

Donate Now

You make the difference.

Latest News

COVID Vaccine Injury Reports Among 12- to 17-Year-Olds More Than Triple in 1 Week, VAERS Data Show

'Stop the Monopoly Madness': Biden Urged to Block Amazon's $8.5 Billion Purchase of MGM

Woman Regrets Getting J&J Vaccine After Suffering Blood Clots, German Scientists Say They May Know What's Causing Clots

MORE NEWS

Latest Views

Wuhan Lab Deleted Files Showing Fauci Authorized Funding for Risky Coronavirus Experiments

Who Fact Checks Health and Science on Facebook?

Serious Injuries From Merck's Gardasil HPV Vaccine Significantly Underreported, Study Shows

MORE VIEWS

Latest Community

NEW YORKERS: Tell Your Lawmakers to Oppose Mandated Vaccine Reporting for Adults

Children's Health Defense Launches Illinois Chapter

FRIDAY: Medical Freedom Advocates to Hold Rally at Rutgers as Students Push Back Against Vaccine Mandates

MORE COMMUNITY

Get FREE News & Updates!

SIGN UP

Children's

Children's Health Defense[®] is a 501(c)3 non-profit organization. Its mission is to end childhood health epidemics by working aggressively to eliminate harmful exposures, hold those responsible accountable, and to establish safeguards so this never happens again.

EN ES

SUBSCRIBE - IT'S FREE!

BECOME A MEMBER

MEMBER LOGIN

Donations are tax deductible to the full extent of the law. EIN #26-0388604

Children's Health Defense • Legal Disclaimer • Terms of Use • Privacy Policy • Donate • Contact • Social • Sitemap

© 2016 - 2021 Children's Health Defense[®] • All Rights Reserved